Forecast for Friday 01 Jul 2022

Weather: A mostly dry but rather cloudy start to the day. Some sunny spells will quickly develop, along with scattered showers. The showers will be heavy at times, especially towards the middle of the day. However, they will be lighter and less frequent than on Thursday. The showers then easing into the evening with late sunny spells developing.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 90% chance for most of the day, but 40% in the early hours over western slopes before early cloud lifts and clears.

Low cloud and visibility: Early cloud on western slopes will bring poor visibility at times above 400m. Otherwise, generally good or excellent, but reducing to moderate in showers, or poor in heavy showers.

Meteorologist's View

Isolated wind gusts could be 5-10mph higher than stated in the table when accompanied by heaviest showers. Showers are likely through much of the day, so ensure you are properly equipped to deal with the conditions and are aware of potentially slippery surfaces.
